Amber ESOL Teacher Guide

This guide is for ESOL teachers. It covers your dashboard, the priority queue, learner records, reviews, messaging, and the parts of the compliance record that carry your name. Every picture comes from the real system.

The idea in one line: the AI tutor handles routine practice and the platform writes the evidence, so your time goes to the learners who need a human this week.

Quick reference, the 8 things you will do most

I want to	Where to go
See who needs my attention this week	Sidebar, Teacher Dashboard , the priority queue
Open a learner's full record	Dashboard, press Open learner on any card or row
Log a review after working with a learner	Learner page, Log review (this records your teaching hours)
Message a learner	Learner page, Send message
Read an AI session transcript	Sidebar, ESOL Sessions , press a session
Approve a level achievement	Learner page, Sign off RARPA Stage 5 (active when a review is waiting)
Set which learners get matched to me	Sidebar, Teaching Profile
Pause the automatic nudge emails	Dashboard, the toggle on the banner

When ON, the platform sends a brief "checking in" note from you to any of your learners who haven't logged in for two weeks. Mon-Fri at 09:00 UTC; max one nudge every 14 days per learner. The message uses a fixed template; you can always send your own from the learner detail page.

What you see, top to bottom:

- Your stats. Learners assigned to you, plus reviews and teaching hours for the month.
- The nudge toggle. When ON, Amber sends a short "checking in" note from you to any learner who has not signed in for two weeks. At most one nudge every 14 days per learner, and you can always send your own message instead. Turn it off any time.
- The priority queue. Learners grouped into four bands. P1 means act now, P4 means on track, nothing needed. Each card gives the reason and an Open learner button. When everyone is on track you will see the whole cohort sitting in P4, as in the picture.
- Your cohort. The full table with level, priority, recommended action, last session, and last review. Filter by priority or organisation, or search by name.

Good to know: you never need to hunt for work. If a learner needs something, they rise into the queue with the reason attached.

2. A learner's record

What it is for: everything about one learner in one place, plus every action you can take for them.

How to get here: press Open learner anywhere, or press a row in the cohort table.

The screenshot shows the AMBER Tutor Dashboard for a learner named Lara. The header includes the AMBER logo, navigation links (Tutor, Dashboard), and user information (Theo Teacher). The left sidebar contains links for ESOL (Teacher Dashboard, ESOL Sessions, Teaching Profile) and ACCOUNT (Settings). The main content area displays the learner's profile: Lara Learner, Seed QA Organisation - ULN 8001234567, with badges for LEVEL E3, P4 - ON TRACK, and ACTIVE. It shows the last reviewed date (17 Aug 2026) and a recommended action panel with the text "No specific action recommended right now." and an "Open learner" button. Below this are four tabs: Recent sessions (4), Vocab + objectives, Your reviews (1), and Activity. The "Recent sessions" tab is active, showing a list of sessions. The first session, s1_gp_appointment, is expanded, showing a conversation between the learner and the AI tutor. The learner's message is "Hello, I would like to book an appointment with the doctor please." and the AI tutor's response is "Hello! That's a great start. I can help you with that. Could you please tell me your name?". The session status is PASSED, and the duration is 18 Aug 2026, 22:31 - 1 mins - 1 turn. The other sessions listed are s1_gp_appointment (DID NOT PASS), s2_payslip, and s3_housing_rights (PASSED). On the right, the "Actions" rail contains buttons for Log review, Override pathway, Send message, and Sign off RARPA Stage 5, with a note that No Stage 5 review currently awaits your sign-off for this learner.

The header shows the learner's name, organisation, ULN, level badge, priority badge, and status. Below it sits the recommended action panel, and on the right the Actions rail:

- Log review. Record work you did with or about this learner (details in section 3).
- Override pathway. Hand pick the scenarios this learner should practise next, replacing the automatic choice for 30 days.
- Send message. A short note the learner sees on their dashboard and before their next session (section 4).
- Sign off RARPA Stage 5. Greyed out until a Stage 5 review is waiting for you. The caption underneath always explains why.

The four tabs

Recent sessions. The learner's last AI tutor sessions as collapsible cards. Open one to read the conversation exactly as it happened, with pass results and duration.

Vocab and objectives. The words the learner has retained and the words still in progress, plus their Stage 3 goals with progress notes against each one.

3. Logging a review

Why this matters: your reviews are the human teaching record. They also count your contact time, which feeds the organisation's funding evidence. If you worked with a learner and did not log it, the system does not know it happened.

Log a review

Recording a review for Lara Learner. Reviews are append-only — once saved, they cannot be edited.

REVIEW TYPE

- ☒ Contact session — synchronous teaching
- ☐ Async review — read AI output, no learner contact
- ☐ Pathway adjustment — note about routing change

For Stage 5 sign-off use the dedicated "Sign off RARPA Stage 5" action — it writes the review and stamps the Stage 5 record atomically.

DURATION (MINUTES) *

☐ I acted on the AI's recommendation

Cancel Save review

Step by step

1. Pick the review type:
 - Contact session for live teaching time with the learner.
 - Async review when you read their AI sessions without contact.
 - Pathway adjustment when you changed their scenario route.
2. Enter the duration in minutes. For contact sessions this adds to your recorded teaching hours.
3. Write your notes. They stay private to you and Amber admins, and they cannot be edited later.
4. Tick the box if you acted on the AI's recommendation.
5. Press Save review.

Good to know: Stage 5 approvals have their own dedicated action. Use Sign off RARPA Stage 5 for those rather than a plain review, so the review and the Stage 5 record are stamped together.

4. Messaging a learner

Messages are short on purpose, at most 300 characters. Long coaching belongs in a session. When a learner's first language is not English, Amber offers a translation preview so the learner receives the note in their own language. The learner sees your message on their dashboard banner and as a full screen note before their next practice session, so it cannot be missed.

5. ESOL sessions

What it is for: the sessions of your assigned learners, across your whole cohort, in one list.

How to get here: sidebar, ESOL Sessions.

The three cards count sessions in progress, completed, and flagged for review. Press any session to open its detail:

The detail view gives you:

- The transcript. Every learner message and every AI reply, exactly as the learner saw them.
- The final session summary. The AI's closing note to the learner.
- A teacher prep note. A short AI generated briefing about what happened and what to focus on. It generates on first open, so give it a few seconds.
- Your feedback. Space for your own comment on the session.

6. Your teaching profile

What it is for: this profile drives which learners get matched to you automatically.

Teaching profile

New learners are matched to teachers using this profile — the levels you teach, the languages you speak, and your specialisms. Leaving a section empty means "no preference": you stay eligible for every learner.

LEVELS YOU TEACH
Learners outside these levels won't be auto-assigned to you.

Entry 1 Entry 2 Entry 3 Level 1 Level 2

LANGUAGES YOU SPEAK
Sharing a learner's first language is the strongest matching signal — especially for Entry-level learners.

Arabic Bengali Cantonese Dari Farsi French Gujarati Hindi Mandarin Pashto Polish Portuguese Punjabi Romanian Russian Somali Spanish Tamil Turkish Urdu Vietnamese

SPECIALISMS
Used to match learners whose goals fit your strengths — e.g. exam-route learners to exam-preparation specialists.

Exam preparation
Regulated ESOL qualifications and exam technique

Employability
Workplace English, CVs, interviews

Everyday English
Conversation, community life, services

Family learning
Supporting parents — schools, healthcare

SEND support
Experience with additional learning needs

Digital skills
Blending essential digital skills into English

Save profile

Three sections, all optional:

1. Levels you teach. Learners outside these levels will not be auto assigned to you.
2. Languages you speak. Sharing a learner's first language is the strongest matching signal, especially for Entry level learners.
3. Specialisms. Exam preparation, employability, everyday English, family learning, SEND support, digital skills. Learners whose goals fit your strengths come to you first.

Leaving a section empty means no preference: you stay eligible for every learner. Press Save profile when done.

7. Stage 5, approving an achievement

When a learner completes a level, the platform prepares a Stage 5 review. Nothing the AI scores can be exported as an achievement on its own. A human must confirm it, and for your part that is the Sign off RARPA Stage 5 action on the learner page.

- The button stays greyed out until a review actually awaits you, and the caption explains the current state.
- Signing off writes your review and stamps the Stage 5 record in one step, into the append only audit trail.
- The organisation admin then completes the final confirmation. Only after that does the achievement enter the funding record.

This two person rule is deliberate. It keeps the evidence honest and audit safe, and it keeps a person, not a model, at the moment of judgement.

8. Amber on your phone

9. If something goes wrong

Problem	What to do
A learner is missing from my cohort	Their organisation assigns learners to teachers. Ask the org admin.
The Stage 5 button is greyed out	No review is waiting. The caption under the button says so.
A session shows a spinner instead of a prep note	It is generating. Give it a few seconds and it fills in.
I logged a review with a typo	Reviews are append only and cannot be edited. Log a short follow up review with the correction.
The dashboard shows empty cards	It is still loading, or no learners are assigned yet.

Terms like RARPA, GLH, and Stage 5 are explained in the glossary.
